TESTIMONIALS.
From Mr. JOHN J. MANON, Capilla del Señor, June 29, 1881.—The dip which you sent me I used according to directions, and I can assure you that it gave the desired result. During four years of practical experience of curing scab in sheep, I have seen many specifics used, and I consider Gilliard's the only one that gives complete satisfaction. It improves the quality and promotes the growth of the wool. For efficiency, economy and facility of application, I prefer it to any dip I have used.
From Mr. JAMES M. THOMAS, Estancia Santa Ines, Monte, June 29, 1881.—Having given a good trial to Gilliard's Dip, I have much pleasure in bearing my testimony to its valuable quality as a Sheep Dip. It destroys all insect life with which sheep are infected, mixes readily in cold water, does not injure the hands, and softens all hard parts. I shall strongly recommend it whenever an opportunity offers. As regards the cheapness, it should command a good sale.
From Mr. Wm. Petty, Estancia Caro, Colonia, Sept. 20, 1881—
"I feel great pleasure in informing you that the sheep dip supplied by you to me under the name of Gillard's Sheep Dip has had surprising results on my English long-woolled rams; it has kept them entirely free from scab after only twice using it, although those rams have been constantly running in a flock of scabby sheep. I intend for the first time to give it a trial with the whole of my English breed of sheep as soon as I have them shorn, as I feel satisfied I shall with that did keep scab out of the flock.'
From Messrs. Patrick Mahon, junr., Ciriaco Morales, and James Murray, Capilla del Señor, Sept. 18, 1881—
"It gives us great pleasure to inform you that, after giving a good trial to Gillard's non-poisonous sheep dip, we can pronounce it to be the best specific we have used as yet, and we are fully determined for the future to use no other remedy."

London 12th.

Details to hand of the burning of the Ringstrasse Theatre in Vienna. Fire began during performance and spread with such rapidity that the whole place was ablaze in a few minutes, and the doors blocked up with the corpses of the spectators trying to escape. The theatre and several houses near were completely destroyed, and the total number of victims is 900, from various accidents. The desolation in Vienna defies description.

TRIP TO RIO NEGRO.

The Villarino left the Boca on Tuesday, at ½ past 8 a. m.; we were detained somewhat by the troops not arriving in time. General Villegas and staff, and Colonel Bernal and staff arrived early, and the steamer was far more crowded with passengers than the Holyhead packet when we left Dublin for the Paris Exhibition in 1878. The importance of the far south, its rise progress and future, may all be taken in at a glance at the passenger ist and ship's manitests. The banks of the Riachuelo were lined with crowds to see us off: why it was Greenock over again; fully two hundred people on the shore and 500 on board, as we carried a General with his staff, troops and a band of musicour departure was an ovation. the band played and the friends on shore shouted and waved handkerchiefs, Kincaid, by some persuasion, got the band-master to play some peculiarly melancholy air which he called 'La muchacha que he dejado' (or in plain English, 'The girl I left behind me'); but it is easy to suck melancholy from a song when one is leaving home, and but for the hub-bub of getting out of the channel, and the difficulty the Villarino had to pick her way through lighters, steamers, orange boats, foreign barques, it is possible we would have followed the music in thought until we found ourself whistling "Come back to Erin, Mavourneen" Is there no harbour master in the Boca? The trade of the place is growing so fast that it is time one be named, and the neglect of the authorities in this respect would be less remarkable had the place remained as it was twenty years ago. At last we got out into the river; the steamer was so crowded that there was hardly standing room on deck, and we doubt if anything we write could be more descriptive of our journey at the outstart than a simple extract from the ship's papers —we give the list as follows:—

We reached the ponton at 9 o'clock, six miles off Quilmes; at ½ past 10 we were in front of the Admiral Brown and could just see her with 3 other vessels off Punta Lara. At noon we were off Ponton Chico in front of Magdalena, about 45 miles from Lambare. At 3 o'clock we were at Point Indio, about 11 miles from the shore, we could just see trees and bushes. From here we steer out and at 5 o'clock we are abreast of Point Piedras in front of Montevideo at the mouth of the river, say 42 miles across; we now steer across Samborombon Bay, a great expause of water but useless to shipping save of the smallest draught; the Salado and Samborombon both fall into this immense bay, but these rivers are useless to navigation; here we cannot see the land but all along the coast there are small islands marked, unknown we believe even to the sheep farmers and estancieros, who have made fortunes on the Samborombon and Salado. Lower down is the Tuyu, where vessels enter and load; saladeros and tongue factories flourish. At 11 o'clock in the night we are in front of Cape San Antonio, 147 miles from the Boca. The Villarino is a splendid sailer, 12 to 14 knots per hour. At noon on the 7th, we were abreast of Mar Chiquito, where some of the finest estancias and sheepfarms of Buenos Aires exist. We remember meeting a Mar Chiqu ta Irish sheepfarmer in Paris in 1878. All the Mar Chiquita people have money in both pockets. At 3 o'clock we sight Cape Corrientes, 297 miles out. In years that are over the grand estancia Sociedad Pastoril flourished there; to-day the place belongs to Sr Saenz Valiente; we can see the cliffs from 30 to 40 feet high. We passed Wednesday Hill at 8 p.m. then Sunday Ridge, and at day break Point Nakedness, a big sand ridge 70 feet high. From Cape Corrientes to Punta Raza, San Blas, there is a stretch of 300 miles, and these points mark the gigantic bay of Bahia Blanca, the grandest bay we have ever seen. We reached Monte Hermoso at 1 o'clock, and landed in the evening at Bahia Blanca, one of the most extraordinary places we ever visited, but all about it must stand for next letter.

OUR THEATRES

The melancholy telegram received from Europe, announcing the conflagration of the theatre in Vienna and the terrible death of nine hundred people, is another warning to the authorities of this city. When the Nice theatre was burnt to the ground, we wrote on the permanent danger attending all our theatrical entertainments: but the advise was not listened to, and the Muncipality did not move in the least in the very serious question. Since then a new theatre has been built in the Calle Florida, superior in many ways to the Colon or to the Opera House, and the question naturally arises, whether it is not much better to consider the safety from fire of the establishment rather than its height above the level of the Calle Florida. Porteños are a very reckless people; the 1871 yellow fever has not left reminiscences dark enough to urge on the City Improvement Works, and now we may be entering on one of the hottest seasons ever experienced in the Plate: The Politeama once came down, when it should have been the duty of the Municipal architect to have examined the building and its solidity: The very same way we yearly see cramed houses in the Colon, of close on 3,000 people, and all the precautions taken are limited to a squad of police men outside the doors, of no use whatever in case panic should take place in the theatre.

It is an acknowledged fact that all theatres are doomed to be burned: All the great theatres in Europe have been burned once or twice, and each time the loss of human life has been more or less appalling. The day a like catastrophe occurs in this city we may confidently look forward to a reform, but, as it would appear, not before. Within a few months all the theatres in Buenos Aires will be thrown open, and we seriously call the attention of the President of the Municipality to this constant danger, that may sweep off all our esteemed high life in a few hours, in one night. Whoever enters the Colon or the Opera, the Variedades or the Alegria, cannot fail to observe the terrible consequences that must necessarily ensue in the event of a fire and of a crush for life: the doors, the galleries, the stairs, the banisters, the whole place is one vast man-trap in each building: the theatre that offers most chances of escape is the Variedades, owing to its flimsy doors, which would be borne down like cards before the crowd, but in the other buildings the loss of life would be terrific.

As regards the policemen, generally stationed in the street before the doors of the theatres, they are a useless display, and more of an incumbraace than anything else. Their aid would be problematical in front of a frantic crowd, and not all the policemen of Buenos Aires could save the unfortunate folks inside. Those and many other considerations lead to these remarks, and we cite the following precautions, adopted in Berlin, owing to the Nice catastrophe. The consideration of same in the Municipality may in some future period save the lives of hundreds of people, and it is a duty of the corporation to study them and apply them to the numerous theatres in this city. The precautions will never be lost, and we may bear in mind that forewarned is forearmed. The following is the tenor of the Berlin measures, in reference to the safety of theatres in the great German capital:—

"Each theatre must be connected electrically, in one or more places, with the nearest fire-brigade station. In the stage space and the various rooms only fixed gas brackets be used. All flames must be tected with wirework cases. the passages and on stairs especiall at turns, oil lamps provided besides gas, to serve case of the latter failing. The matches or openly burning tapers is forbidden. The s gas systems of the stage and body of the theatre must be capable of clourse from without building. The stage-house must built with solid fireproof walls proscenium opening must be metalic curtain, raised only for performance or rehersal. All and the other rooms must have proof closure, and the closing must open only outwards, and of their own accord. As the body of the theatre it is re inter alia' that during the per ance, as well as at its close, sages of exit, including those for special emergency, shall opened for public use. All corstaircases, doors, &c., used must be kept free of obstacles stairs must have strong h on the wall side as well other. All dooors [must open wards. All passages of emergencies) must be distindicated, and the only m fastening is to be a small the inside of the door a venient height. In the space no movable seats are in the passages, nor flap the parquet walls."

THE GRAND BANQUET AT THE POLITEAMA.

Madame Adelaide Tessero and Messrs Moreno & Co. invited the Press to a grand banquet on Monday night: the tables were laid in the big saloon and were elegantly and tastily decorated. Madame Tessero received all her guests in the most friendly manner, and every stranger to the Company found himself at home at once.

Though the invitations were issued for 9 o'clock, many of the guests did not arrive till 10, shortly after which people took their seats to partake of a fine Champagne supper. Unfortunately, there were only four ladies, so it is easy to imagine the struggle which ensued to get located alongside of one of the artistes; of course, the Standard representative was early in the field and secured a seat of honor, entering freely into conversation with his neighbour, an interesting young lady, whose beautiful eyes dazzled the company and sparkled with pleasure at being so much admired. After partaking of some light refreshment, the champagne, which was of excellent quality, was handed round, and it naturally increased the hilarity. It was then that all those who were fortunate enough to be well located were invited to exchange their seats with others: I need not say that these invitations were politely declined.

Then came the speeches, and Mr. Ciacchi opened the ball by explaining, in Italian, the object of the reunion, which was to cement the friendship entertained by Madame Tessero and Company for the Buenos Aires public, and of which they speak in the most flattering terms.

Dn. Florencio Madero replied in his usual witty manner, then followed Dn. Santiago Estrada, who made a short but eloquent discourse on the artistic merits of Italians in general and the Tessero Company in particular.

It is, indeed, hard to determine whether this amiable and talented lady, Madame Tessero, is most to be admired, 'on or off the stage.' The affability of every member of this distinguished company must endear them to all who have the privilege of their acquaintance, and it is to be hoped that the public will lend them the support they merit. The pleasurable emotions experienced in their performances are not to be easily forgotten, and as the entertainments they give are the most intellectual, no doubt all the best families in the city will flock there, weather permitting.

Nothing refines people so much as high-class dramas, well performed.

Madame Tessero also made a graceful speech, welcoming her guests.

Last, though not least, Madame Pero, who always plays the 'soubrette' to such perfection, was much admired.

All lovers of dramatic art should frequent the Politeama and endeavour to acquire a taste for the language of Dante.

The Old Stager.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

We publish to-day the first lette from our editor in chief in the South. The party seem to have had a very jolly trip down. How we envy them the opportunities they have of 'headers' into the bosom of old Ocean this stewing weather.

Judging from the state of things in some of the Southern camp towns, the neighbours must be sighing for the New Year and its consequent change of local officials. At Ayacucho the office of our colleague La Justicia has been sacked and its editor imprisoned. At Dolores there was also a free fight at a 'fiesta,' and the first head on which a stick was broken was that of the editor of the Constitucional. At Tapalque there was another fearful row in the middle of the night, caused by the new Commissary knocking up the hotel people, to supply him with something stronger than water in the way of refreshment. In fact there seems to be no end of the 'escandalos' going on. We remark, in all these camp town 'incidentes,' that the local editor is invariably mixed up in them and is always the first man knocked on the skull when the fight begins. This uncomplimentary preference is probably to be traced to too much political pepper in the ink bottle. It is also a curious camp fact that the fights are fiercest and most frequent where the title of the local sheet is most grandiolquent—such as Constitution, Justice etc. We hope no one will dream of starting a camp paper to be called El Order, as perpetual dis-Order would follow as surely as the sun rises every day.

We recommend lovers of art to call at the well known 'Minerva' in Calle Florida and inspect the pictures and portraits in hair work by Mr C Ortells. They are really wonderful. With a single lock of hair of a deceased or absent relative or friend, this talented gentleman will turn out a portrait. The ex-Queen of Spain's portrait, made of her own hair, is amongst those on view. Mr Ortells receives orders at No 9 Calle Maipu.

The Industrial Club sent a deputation to the Provincial Finance Minister on Monday, to give him a mild hint that a little pecuniary help for the Continental Exhibition would be very acceptable. After a pleasant chat, the affable Minister sent his visitors away in as good humour as could be expected, considering that he refused to entertain the idea they had so kindly suggested to him. It is not every Minister who knows how to refuse gracefully and manage a deputation. The late Lord Palmerston was a prodigously fine hand at this sort of thing, and frequently made friends for life of a deputation thirsting for his impeachment when they entered his room, although they got what all deputations get, and that's—Nothing.

A lady dressed in deep mourning walked into the Chamber of Deputies on Monday while the House was sitting and advanced to the President's table. She was led away and found to be cracked, possibly owing to the long delay of a petition she has before the Chamber.

The storm yesterday morning did precious little towards cooling the air. The rain came down in grand style while it lasted, and the thunder was terrific; but the heat was as fierce as ever long before noon; subscribers melting away visibly before our eyes, with no power to save them.

Householders should take notice of the new regulations of Water Board for supplying the city during the summer. The city is divided by Calle Rivadavia, and for the future the water will be turned on on the north side from 6 a.m. till 9 a.m, and from noon till 3 p.m. On the south side the supply will be available from 9 a.m. till noon and from 3 p.m. till 6 p.m. From 6 p.m. till 6 next morning the supply will be worked up for the whole city. In Calle Rivadavia, from Paseo Julio to Pozos, in Libertad, from Rivadavia to Cinco Esquinas, and in the Calle Larga de la Recoleta, there will be a supply night and day. Calle Rivadavia, from Calle Pozos Westward, is included in the South Section. The inhabitants are requested to close the water cocks while the supply is interrupted, to prevent air entering the pipes.

Our weekly letter from Rosario has missed this week, why we cannot say, unless the heat has floored our talented correspondent W.P. If so, it is the first time he has ever been conquered. The telegrams say that the heat is very great up there. The demand for harvest hands is prodigious, and the supply very short in all the colonies, and the wages very high.

Madame Tessero's high tea at the Politeama on Monday night was a charming reunion. Our theatrical friend, the 'Old Stager,' has favoured us with a description of the fete, for which see another column.

The heat is playing 'Viejo Enrique' with everybody. The tramway horses succumbed to the torrid temperature on Monday. Messrs. Lacrosse lost three animals, one of which was still swelling in the sun yesterday morning in Calle Rivadavia, the police or the owners having had the whole night to remove it. It is bad to have tramway horses in too fat a condition this weather. The three poor brutes that fell dead were heavy feeders. Obese bipeds are suffering as much as quadrupeds, and we implore any subscriber over 12 stone to be careful of himself and keep out of the sun.

The names selected for the distribution of the gold medals commemorative of the federalization of this city, have put some of our colleagues in a huff, because they did not receive one. All nonsense! The occasion is, no doubt, a very important one, and justifies a gold medal, which is more than can be said of all the occasions that are eagerly seized here for the production of all kinds of medals, from leather to gold; but we firmly believe that although the newspapers have not been gold-medalled on this great occasion they will survive the loss. We have an old bucketful of medals in our museum, the gatherings of twenty years, and cannot get a bid for them.

The thieving fraternity do not seem to be a jot affected by the heat: on the contrary, they make it serve their turn. Three quintas, on the Flores Road, were entered by burglars and robbed while the families had retired to enjoy a 'siesta' during the awful heat. From the first the robbers contented themselves with a pair of high-heeled boots belonging to the lady of the house; from the next they decamped with a riding habit, several dresses and other things, and in the third they also made a fair haul. This is certainly tolerably daring work, to enter houses in broad noon day. The police were, of course, enjoying their 'siesta.'

There were more people at the Santa Lucia fetes on Monday than on Sunday, but very few last night.

There was a hen-egg hail storm at the Rosary Colony in Cordoba last week, and all the wheat and maize crops were beaten to the earth and destroyed.

Why do some tram companies put half-trained horses to their cars, causing the most exasperating delays, to say nothing of danger, when the terrified animals become half-mad from goading, kicking and beating with the butt-ends of whips, and kick, plunge, rear, smash their traces, etc, to the great terror of lady and children passengers, the disgust of the male ones, and apparently intense interest and delight of the 'oi polloi' who, in this city, seem rather to enjoy the torture so often inflicted on poor dumb brutes in our streets?

The successive bad harvests and the first puffs of the Land Reform wind which are now felt in England and Scotland, have induced a Gloucestershire nobleman to make a novel experiment to render his estates more remunerative. He has planted thirteen acres with gooseberry and currant trees, eleven with strawberry plants, and thirty-five acres with plum trees; while a large portion of the park and wood of 200 acres has been converted into rabdit warrens and surrounded with iron fencing. The erection of a jam factory is contemplated.

We had many visitors yesterday to inspect the flax prepared at Bernal, We are most happy to say that the verdict was unanimously favourably. A Scotch expert in the trade gave the pithy opinion "That flax will do." He also twisted the staff into a theatrical wig for a "first old man". The Consumption of flax for theatrical wigs is by no means insignificant. The latest quotation of "lino" in Rosario is 9 Bolivianos "efectivo" per fanega, and the prospects of the crop are splendid.

There is a chorus of woe from the Riachuelo that must be audible at the South Pole. All the people living on, or near the banks of that river are being slowly but surely poisoned, and an epidemic may break out at any moment. The cause of this state of affairs is a distillery at the 'empalme,' which lets a flood of the most dreadful stuff into the river every night, when decent people are in bed. The stuff must be most noxious, as the bottoms and sides of the vessels in the stream have been burned black by it, and the unfortunate inhabitants are all as green in the face as new peas owing to the continued nausea produced the awful smell. We call our energetic Lord Mayor's immediate attention to this terrible and dangerous nusance, which is a menace to the health of the whole city in this unsually hot weather. It would be a truly terrible thing if this distillery were to bring on us a repetition of the Plague year 1870. Better drink even Patagonian whiskey than make the liquor here at such an appalling risk to the publick health.

We were kindly favoured yesterday with a full account of the distribution of prizes at the Windsor College, Calle Defensa, so intelligently directed by Mrs Macken, but as it reached us somewhat late in the day, we are forced to hold it for to-morrow's issue.

The Italian steamer Ausonia ran short of coal at the mouth of the river, and some tons of it were sent down to her in a steamer to enable her to come up.

The Thales has arrived at Montevideo from Liverpool.

Up to August last the war with Peru cost Chile 46 millions of silver dollars. Poor Peru will have to pay this and more, but guano and nitrate will easily do it.

Thursday is now the weekly day for the 'High Life,' or 'funciones de Gala' at the Politeama, instead of Friday as formerly.

THE CHACO ÆROLITE.

Santiago del Estero,
Dec. 5th, 1881.

To the Editor of the Standard.

Dear Sir

My object in again troubling you is merely to elucidate a point raised by W.P. in your issue of the 27th ult., and to express my thanks to that gentleman for the information contained in his letter.

W.P. asks 'Where is Ruben de Celis to be found now?' Poor Reuben is dead now—or ought to be. He went to the Chaco in 1784, and by the laws of this country (vide Codigo Civil) no man has a right to live more than 80 years without giving due notice as to his where abouts. Assuming, then, that he is dead, since it is unlawful to assume otherwise, he will no doubt be found in one of two places: in Heaven, or—Elsewhere. In either case W.P. can easily cross examine him by applying to a medium.

When I made the stupid assertion that the Chaco Ærolite was not a stone, I was led astray by Professor Loomis, of Yale College, and some confounded idiots who went and analysed the 'stone.' The Professor says, 'Bodies falling to the earth from beyond the earth's atmosphere are called 'aerolites.' When they present mainly a stony appearance they are called 'Meteoric stones;' when they are chiefly metallic they are called 'Meteoric Iron.' And those unfortunates who made the analysis say that the Chaco meteor is composed of nearly 90 p. cent iron, and 10 p. cent nickel, with small quantities of cobalt, etc. Another eccentric individual—a workman in the Parque, B. Aires, made a pair of pistols of this stone, and they were presented to the President of the U. States. Now, of course, I know that it is a stone, and perhaps will remain so for some time. W.P. might give these old Greeks another poke and perhaps learn the longitude of the Meteor? the latitude is 27° 28', as given by old Reuben.

Yours truly

J. O.

Gold and Cedulas at par made up the chief events on the Bolsa to-day. The gradual fall of gold was inevitable, and the fluctuations in the sales pointed that way. Nevertheless the fact is quite unimportant, as a difference of 2 or 5 cents is quite insignificant, unless in a very large transaction. Sales for the end of the month are 25.05, and are likely to remain so.

Cedulas, Series A, have at length topped the market, and the stock is a first rate investment at and above par. We reiterate what we stated on a former occasion, and that is that the Bank sell off summarily all the properties that are a dead weight on the establishment, and the influence of which is closely watched by the market. Cedulas E are firm at 81½ and have experienced a proportionate rise with Series A. The sales of the day have been more active than usual, the total operations amounting to over 70,000 pats.

National Bonds, or Hard Dollars of 1868, are at 88; the sale shows a rise over former quotations. The telegram in this morning's Nacion, dated Dec. 8th, spread a gleam of sunshine among National Bondholders; the rates of the Stock Exchange are as follows:—

Argentine 6 o/o 1868	101-102
Do do, 1871	96½-97
Do do, 1881	94-94½
Do do (Hard Dol.) 1875	87½-88
B. Aires 6 o/o 1870	96½-96¾
Do 6 o/o Treasury Bonds	118 -120

Treasury Bills have thus somewhat recovered from the severe shock of the Consolidation Loan. Argentine credit in London seems as flourishing as ever.

The National Bank Shares rule the market on sound foundations. There are very few sellers in the market, and many parties are holding back their stock, in order to carry votes in the general meeting of the 15th of next month, when the new Directors will be named. The advertisement will be published in a day or two, and the importance attached to the election of the Directors is a very natural feature in the business. The Bank under the present Directors has thrived and they have maintained the established in the most flourishing condition both in this province and more especially in the Interior provinces of the Republic. The report of the Directors may be expected out in the first days of January, and its contents will have a very great influence on the stock. To-day the market opened at 118 and closed at 118½, buyers cash. Time sales ruled from 118½ to 118¾. Later on sales were effected to strong parties at 119 cash, which goes to show the tendency of the market and the sound nature of the operations. There is always a kind of stand-from-under hesitating feeling in the time sales, and the amounts are very far from reacting last month's speculative figures.

Sovereigns are in much demand and other coins for the rivers, for the faena of the saladeros.

Imports are very dull; the registreros are doing little and unwilling to allow large credits to the almaceneros outside. Many of the almaceneros in the camp burnt their fingers in last season's wool speculations and their remittance are not up to the mark, unable to meet balances due in town and in the "vocative case" as people in town are unwilling to forward goods. Furthermore many are unwilling to buy, owing to the approaching end of the year, and wish to settle all accounts up to date, before beginning afresh. The rise in the new Customs' Tariff has not at all imparted that activity which was expected in several articles, and the market in general maintains very dull features.

The sales at the ring were—

A change has come over the dream of the lino market. The news from Europe it appears continues bad, and advices are unfavorable. There is an to a lull in the business.

We congratulate Governor Rocch on his selection of Don Emile Schröder as member of the committee to represent the province in the coming Continental Exhibition. Mr E. Schröder is well known in both native and foreign circles, and few have been so strenuous in their efforts in the interests of this country and old Vaterland; the Government has put the right man in the right place.

Freights are firm. There are plenty of steamers in port and plenty of cargo for all. The Don Pedro, we hear, is quite full. The Lucena left to-day.

In reference to the wool deposits in the Ones, we are informed that there are some deposits empty. The hitch lies in the demands of the wool-men, who all wish to unload the article in the grand depot, for private convenience and that of the buyers. It is very natural that all the wool cannot fit in one large shed, and a little more discrimination on the part of holders might lead to a removal of the inconvenience. On the other hand there are other parties who do not wish to take the wool out of the 'carietes' or the waggons, and the railway-men cannot meet the wishes of all.

The wool markets are calm. The arrivals continue to be considerable and prices are weaker.

Through a mistake in to-day's issue we announced that the Tamar was en route for the Plate, she is at present loading in Rio bound for Europe.

A good amount of exchange was done at 50d. The banks were takers at 50¼d, but no drawers.

At afternoon there was nothing doing in gold, being offered at 25.07½ for the end of the month. In Nat Bank Shares some business was done at 119; the market closed firm at 119¼. Some business was done in Cedulas E at 81½.

We hear of an operation done in gold at 25.20 all the year round for end of each month; the operation is small.

There were many wool telegrams received from Havre to-day, stating that the wool market was indifferent, holders offering to make concessions. We were favored with the following cablegram:—

"Havre, Dec. 10th

"Wool market very quiet.

"Holders disposed to make concessions.

"Feeling weak."

We hear of four leagues of camp offering for sale between Carhue and Guamini, in the Seccion II

The feeling at present in the National Bank Share market is very different to that during last month. All evidences that the severe speculation has given way to sober transactions, and the market is in the hands of men of capital. Yesterday the Italian king stepped in, and a distinguished Argentine broker bought freely. The feeling in the market is a rising one.

A native colleague announces that the Plate has left England with £ 60,000 stg for the Bank; five months ago the news would have influenced the market, but to-day the spell has disappeared and the gold market has relapsed into the present tranquil state.

The French str. Niger has engaged 1,400 bales at 35 francs.

The following clearances are reported:—
Ital. barque Andrea Antonia for Falmouth with 575,000 kilos bones and 20,000 kilos old iron.
Ital. barque Cecilia for England with 356,000 kilos of bones and 76,000 kilos of ashes.
Ital. barque Nueva Maria Libera for Bordeaux with 6,331 bags of maize.

All will hear with regret that Mr D Bruce has suspended his steamer service between this and Rosario, The Capitan, the Lujan, and the never to be forgotten Provedor were traditional favorites, and we hope that Mr Bruce will put them on some other line. There is a growing trade between Patagonia and this port, and with reduced passenger rates, Mr Bruce can anticipate a very fair business. When the Villarino left at the beginning of this month anybody standing on the embankment could at a glance gauge the great development in the carrying and passenger trade with the Rio Negro. The Provedor is just the kind of steamer for the route, and more so since we fear that the Government intends suspending the trips of the Villarino.

A fair amount of exchange done to-day and yesterday at 50d to 50⅛d

Discounts are easy; paper at 6½ to 7 o/o and gold at 6 o/o per annum. Money is abundant and the Provincial Bank discounts freely.

The storm last night kept many awake; the fate of the Exhibition hung over like a nightmare on the members of the Club Industrial, but the building held firm. In Flores a thunderbolt fell in a quinta and set a hay-stack on fire.

The Douro entered Lisbon on the 29th ult. and left on 30th for Montevideo.

The German str. Bahia entered Santos on the 1st inst and was to leave on the 3rd for Rio Janeiro.

The following Montevideo advices will be found important:—

"About 17,500 ar. wool sold in the market at an average price of 3s2d. The St. Denis saladero sold from 1,500 to 3,000 cow hides of 50 lbs. for February at 7½ rls on board. Telegrams from Havre state that Montevidean wools giving from 42 to 43 o/o, fine and long are quoted at 2.20 francs. Mr P Piñeyrua has sold 3,000 salted hides of 68 lbs. at 7¼ rls., and of 67 lbs. at 7⅜ rls. In Rio Grande the zafra has not yet begun. English barque Ocean Ranger has been chartered to load 'mate' in Antonina at 1½ rls per 15 kilos.

"The following figures of exports from Rio Grande from the 1st of Jan. to 6th of Dec. of the current year will be interesting:—

	1880	1881
Dry hides	329,471	383,403
Salted hides	422,539	322,465
Jerked beef, @	1,562,462	1,260,104
Gordura	276,296	199,228

Advices from the North of the Republic state that the Tucuman extension is advancing very slowly, owing to want of hands. Surely the Immigration Department must have plenty of navvies, but we believe that the real hitch exists in the surveys of the extension, some of which have been changed. If the heat in Tucuman and Salta bears any relation to that in the provinces of B. Aires at present, the Government will be in the necessity of engaging black navvies, as is the case in Brazil.

The new Postal Tariff will soon be published; we understand that there are some reductions made in the city correspondence in B. Aires. The Post Office would confer a great favor on the public by turning over a new leaf on the 1st of January, 1882, and showing some more good will to serve the public quickly and regularly.

Telegrams from Chile state that the revenue in that Republic for the year 1880 as published by the financial report amounted to 44,440,417 pats.; expenses to 31,754,899 pats.; extraordinary expenses to 9,876,386 pats.; leaving a balance in favor of the Government of 2,779,131 pats. The cost of the war up to last August amounted to 46,000,000 pats.

The following notes on agriculture in England and Ireland are to the point and will be found interesting:—

"With reference to the agricultural returns for Great Britain and Ireland, just issued, the Daily News remarks that one important fact to be deduced therefrom is that "despite the warnings of increasing foreign competition, the farmers of Great Britain have been discouraged in the growing of cereals by a very slow process. The area under corn crops in England, Wales, and Scotland amounted in 1871 to 9,675,261 acres, as against 8,547,976 in 1881. It is, however, noteworthy that while the decrease in Scotland and Wales is so slight as to mark very little change, it amounts in England to about ⅞ of the whole. The decline in England has been very gradual but persistant, as if the Southern farmer had been the first to perceive the unprofitable nature of corn growing. Surely, perhaps, but very slowly and almost entirely in England and Wales the production of cereals has been decreasing and attention turned to cattle grazing and dairy farming. If retail prices afford any index of the real value of meat and of dairy produce it is easy to understand why farmers having easy access to large towns should turn their attention from wheat to pasture and the growing of green crops for cattle feed. If the the Irishmen of Cork, Kerry Limerick and other counties can find a good market for their more or less salted butter, English farmers should be able to make a good living by dairy farming. The low prices of wheat and wool last year have doubtless helped to bring about a revolution among English agriculturists against the production of grain and of sheep, except for the butcher. Bad harvests and low prices have tried agriculturists sorely during the last five years; but those who have escaped ruin have, probably, a reasonably fair prospect before them. Rents for many years past have, owing to circumstances frequently explained, been at a false price. Protection to which a few still looked back with an eager eye, left behind it a legacy of evil in the shape of artificially enhanced rents and a spurious competition for farms. Land is only now finding its proper level in the market, that at which it will pay those who till it, precisely like any other raw material; and English agriculture can hardly undergo a healthy revival until that condition is reached."

51—San Martin—51
Donde se darán planos y todas las informaciones sobre esta gran venta.
BASE DE VENTA:
$80,000 por legua
El Viernes 23 de Diciembre
a las 3 de la tarde

Procederemos a vender los campos arriba mencionados situados al sud de Cordoba, conocidos por las 'Averias' é inmediatos a los campos de 'La Carlota' y situados al sud de ella.

El campo que ofrecemos en venta ha sido mensurado y amojonado con mojones de hierro y madera y es segun opinion, de primera calidad su proximidad a la provincia de Buenos Aires se nota facilmente, con la revisacion de los planos que se enseñaran a los interesados, a quien se les dara igualmente un plano general de las fracciones a vender.

Recordaremos a los que en ellos pueden interesarse que el Ferro-Carril Andino [Concesion Clark] es ya un hecho, segun consta de los telegramas europeos publicados en todos los diarios, para dos leguas mas o menos de estas magnificas tierras, toda ella vegetal.

Muchas mas lagunas se encuentran en esta inmensa zona de fertilisimo campo, e inmensurables cañadones le cruzan en todas direcciones, el agua se halla a 2½ varas.

La red de Ferro Carriles, que ligara las provincias Argentinas se ve ya como un hecho y segun informes, uno de estos Ferro-Carriles deberá partir de la estacion Villa Maria del Ferro-Carril Argentino y se unira a la concesion Clark y este al Ferro Carril del Oeste.

Si los compradores unifican estos datos de progreso a la bondad de estos campos ellos veran cuan ínfima es la base fijada, mayormente si se tiene en cuenta la venta efectuada por el Gobierno de la Nacion, de los campos situados en el limite Norte de la Provincia de Cordoba hace apenas unos dias, y cuyos precios variaron desde 1,000 a 3,000 $r. legua.

La situacion pues de las tierras que ofrecemos en venta, y para la cual llamamos la atencion de nuestros amigos es de un porvenir inmediato y positivo relativamente a los anteriores.

Por mas informes ocurrir a nuestra casa, 51 San Martin.

THE MORMONS IN THE U. STATES.

The announcement that four hundred Mormon 'Converts' have left Liverpool for Utah and that twenty-four Mormon Missionaries have arrived in Europe, is not calculated to inspirit those sanguine optimists who believe in the perfectibility of the human race And yet those of the 'Saints' who have begun their operations in Hackney, have met with a remarkably rough reception, indicating that, in the East-end at any rate, the masses have no sympathy with these Transatlantic Apostles of a new 'Revelation.' It is, we must admit, somewhat disappointing, not to say depressing, that in an age of telegraphs and telephones, electric lights, and endless books, a superstition so gross as the polygamous creed of Salt Lake City should still flourish, expand, and find ample dupes in our own and other countries. Again and again we have been assured that the 'Latter-day Saints' were dying out. When the Federal Government established a permanent military camp in close vicinity to the Mormon metropolis the death-blow of the hierarchy was considered to have been struck. It was firmly believed that the Mormons could never survive the construction of the Pacific Railroad, the crusade of the Washington authorities against polygamy, the arraignment of Brigham Young in the Territorial Courts of Law, his prosecution for an intractable spouse, and, finally, the death of the 'Prophet,' who, though not the actual founder of the sect, was the Moses who had given forth its adherents into the wilderness, and for over thirty years was its supreme head. But Mormonism is, unhappily, neither dead nor dying, but flourishing and firmly to flourish. President Taylor does not wield the power that his predecessor did; but he rules over a more numerous, a wealthier, and in many respects, a more united people. To-day the few hundred who followed Brigham Young to Nauvoo have increased to four hundred thousand, and there, instead of being scattered over the Old World as they were looking to be gathered into the fold probably as many more. This year missionaries like those now engaged in Hackney, are sent forth to the most benighted ends of the earth to advertise the peace and plenty of Deseret, and with such success that last year three thousand immigrants arrived, and this year the number are expected to number even more. Colonies of Mormons are to be found wherever there seems a favourable opportunity for their transportation, and in this way the great future power to 'the Saints' as a chief to everybody else are the valleys of Colorado, Montana, Idaho, Wyoming, Mountain and Washington Territories. Evidently, they have even sent their emissaries to the remote isles of the Pacific, to seek out a safe refuge should the evil day come when the outraged Government, and the whole people, shall drive them forth.

We do not suppose that many people now-a-days believe in the Golden Plates, from which Joseph Smith translated the Book of Mormon, or in the mysterious Urim and Thummim, by the aid of which the illiterate Prophet accomplished the notable feat. It has long been established, almost to demonstration, that the knavish fountain of new faith plagiarised the whole of his book from the manuscript of a novel written by a Mr Spaulding, and which had been stolen and copied by a compositor named Sidney Rigdon, during the time he was employed in printing about the printing office which he was employed to be—and among the class of superficially literate it is still the fashion to affect—the ration of some aspects of Mormonism. Doubtless there was originally almost heroic in the conception of the band who for the sake of their creed, poor and sordid though it was, deliberately turned their backs on the lonely marches, and then dangerous deserts of the West, and through the savage cañons of the Rocky Mountains, was unquestionably by the most tiring industry that the wilderness of brush gave place to the cultivated fields and peach orchards of Salt Lake Valley, and that a fair city arose on a spot hitherto shunned by all but wild Indian and the solitary trapper. Travellers who passed through it were received with courtesy, and left full of admiration for a town where there was no poverty, forms of vice were not known, where everybody seemed to have enough to eat, and an idle man or woman was unknown. Clergymen who have sometimes deluded themselves that the Mormons were a tolerant sect in the way of religion, the fact that Brigham Young had ordered them to preach in the Tabernacle, unaware that next Sunday and their discourses would be the subject of the most rabid denunciation before an audience to whom it was new to see both sides of a question. Many of the Prophet's sermons were published, or are abridged in the improving little books published in the frontier towns, and many of them are preserved from oblivion and reproduction by their gross indecency, and the coarse language applied to the Gentiles, flock, and to the Go

But Mormonism is, unhappily, neither dead nor dying, but flourishing and likely to flourish. President Taylor does not wield the power that his predecessor did; but he rules over a more numerous, a wealthier, and, in many respects, a more united people. To-day the few hundreds who followed Brigham Young from Nauvoo have increased to fully a hundred thousand, and there are scattered over the Old World waiting to be gathered into the Utah fold probably as many more. Every year missionaries like those now engaged in Hackney, are sent forth to the most benighted ends of the earth to advertise the peace and plenty of Deseret, and with such success that last year three thousand immigrants arrived, and this year the recruits are expected to number even more. Colonies of Mormons are founded wherever there seems a favourable opportunity for their transplantation, and in this way the germs of future power to 'the Saints' and mischief to everybody else are sown in the valleys of Colorado, Arizona, Idaho, Wyoming, Montana, and Washington Territories. Ever provident, they have even sent emissaries to the remote isles of the Pacific, to seak out a safe retreat should the evil day come when an outraged Government, and an irate people, shall drive them forth again.

We do not suppose that many people nowadays believe in the Golden Plates, from which Joe Smith translated the Book of Mormon, or in the mysterious Urim and Thummim, by the aid of which the illiterate Prophet accomplished that notable feat. It has long ago been established, almost to demonstration, that the knavish founder of the new faith plagiarised nearly the whole of his book from the manuscript of a novel written by Solomon Spaulding, and which had been copied by a compositor named Sydney Rigdon, during the time it lay tossing about the printing office in which he was employed. Still it used to be—and among a certain class of superficially liberal tourists is still the fashion to affect an admiration of some aspects of Mormonism. Doubtless there was something almost heroic in the courage of that band who for the sake of their faith, poor and sordid though it was, entered on the lonely march over the then dangerous deserts of America, and through the savage-haunted cañons of the Rocky Mountains. It was unquestionably by dint of untiring industry that the dismal sage brush gave place to the wheat fields and peach orchards of Salt Lake Valley, and that a fair city arose in a spot hitherto shunned even by the wild Indian and the half-tamed trapper. Travellers who passed through it were received with politic courtesy, and left full of admiration for a town where the more glaring forms of vice were not patent, where everybody seemed to have plenty to eat, and an idle man or woman was unknown Clergymen even were sometimes deluded into the belief that the Mormons were the most tolerant sect in the world, owing to the fact that Brigham Young invited them to preach in the Tabernacle, unaware that next Sunday they and their discourses were made the subject of the most ribald ridicule before an audience too ignorant to see both sides of a question. Some of the Prophet's sermons have been published, or are abridged in various improving little books to be purchased in the frontier towns. Several of them are preserved at once from oblivion and reproduction by their gross indecency, and the strength of language applied to the erring of his flock, and to the Government and individuals who had the effrontery to oppose him. They have, however, revealed the Saints in all their squalid vice and blasphemy. The shameless perjury which men and women openly committed in the witness-box have for the time being kept the polygamous elders out of the meshes of the law. But the attempt to break up a system so repugnant to the moral sense of a civilised community has pretty well sufficed to show the Saints in their true colours.

It is often asked, what are the forces at work to keep the Mormons together? Terrorism can no longer exert the same despotism it once did. The Saints have ceased to be huddled together into one valley, separated by untracked deserts from the rest of the world. There are colonies of them in remote spots. Crowds of strangers pass through their district, and Gentile citizens are numerous in Salt Lake City itself. Moreover, a branch line of railway runs into the capital from Ogden, and there are two military camps within hail of any one anxious for their aid. There is at least one anti-Mormon newspaper, which is edited by a nephew of Brigham Young who was never weary of assailing his reverend uncle, and of relating delicious little anecdotes about the domestic infelicities of his numerous aunts. It is, therefore, clear that Captain Rock and his "Destroying Angels" can no longer cut off stragglers weary of their prison, and that such a massacre as that at Mountain Meadows, for which 'Bishop' John Lee was executed, is barely possible. Any one can leave Salt Lake Valley if so minded; and as a matter of fact there are frequent secessions. Joe Smith's sons are dissenters from the polygamous tenets of their father's successor, and the world was only recently entertained by one of the late Prophet's wives prosecuting him for bigamy. Yet the sect increases and keeps together, and it is lamentable to confess that fanaticism is the main element that unites the members. The majority of them are recruited from the most degraded of the mill workers and mining population of England and Wales, and the poorest of the town and agricultural population of Scandinavia. The principal leaders are also foreigners and skilfully impress on the 'immigrants' that the abundant food and clothing which they enjoy in Utah is due to the blessings of Heaven rewarding their faith in its Holy cause. They are too ignorant to know any better, and the time is still distant when their eyes will be opened. Many—we ought, indeed, to say most—of the women firmly believe in the blessedness of their miserable condition; and though occasionally a Gentile gold-digger will have 'a revelation' to elope with an Elder's seventh or eighth wife, and the better educated girls decline to enter into polygamous wedlock, the bulk of them are not troubled by any such scruples Hard swearing has hitherto prevented the Courts getting legal proof of bigamy. The Act enfranchising the women, passed while Young was Territorial Governor, put the Gentiles into a hopless minority—so hopeless, indeed, that at present, except in the mining districts, they rarely take the trouble to go to the polls. A new 'rush,' like that of Deadwood or Washoe, would, however, speedily turn the tables. Meantime, the United States Congress resolutely refuses to admit the Territory to the rank of a State, knowing that the moment this was done, the elected Governor would confirm a series of laws, carefully framed to render the country uninhabitable for anyone save a Mormon. Some day a wealthy Saint will die intestate. Then the children of the first wife will claim the property, to the disinheriting of all the other children. This will doubtless aid in breaking up the present system, which was indeed grievously threatened when the heads of the Church brought a suit, which ended in the heirs of Brigham Young being compelled to disgorge more than one million dollars, of which that divine personage had robbed a deluded people.—London paper.

Conserving Salt.

Mark, 'Corona'.

Patented by the Governments of Germany, Austria-Hungary, Belgium, United States of America and other countries.

Prized in 16 Exhibitions in Europe, America and Australia.

The patented Conserving Salt is preferable to all other existing antiseptics because:—

1. it is a real chemical combination and no mechanic mingling of different Salts;
2. it thoroughly combines with the object to be preserved;
3. it is very easily applied and produces a quick and lasting effect;
4. its application leaves no disagreeable smell behind and even the choicest aroma is not influenced by its taste;
5. its application is not expensive;
6. and above all it is in no way detrimental to health, because it is entirely free of Salicine Acid and the like substances;
7. it is easily soluble in water and must for that reason be kept in a dry place.

Preserves every sort of meat, intestines and poultry, fat, tallow, fishes, milk, butter, cheese, fruit and all objects easily disposed to fermentation.

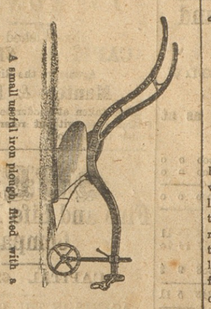
HOWARD'S CELEBRATED PLOUGHS

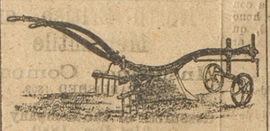
Howard's Small Ridging Plough



A small useful iron plough, fitted with a double mould board or earthing up body, much used by maize and vegetable growers.

Weight ¾ cwt.

Howard's Water-Furrow Plough



This is a modification of J. & F. Howard's Ridging Plough. It is used for making the water furrows for surface drainage on arable land; the peculiarity of its working is that the earth thrown up on each side of the furrow by the mould boards, is moved away from the edges of the furrow and is harrowed down level with the field, a level surface is thus left for the Reaping Machine, and drainage is facilitated.

With steel breasts, weight 1¼ cwt.

Howard's Potato Ploughs.

With a pair of horses, this implement will raise three to four acres of potatoes in a day; it leaves fewer in the ground than hand digging, and the roots are raised with less bruising or scratching of the knife than by any other method. These Ploughs have stood the test of many years experience, and the demand grows larger annually.

D, fitted as above, weight 1¼ cwt.
D D, fitted as above, weight 1½ cwt.
S B, fitted as above, weight 1¾ cwt.
B P, fitted as above, weight 2 cwt.

Dysentery, Cholera, Fever, Ague, Coughs, Colds, &c.

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne

(Ex Army Medical Staff)

IS THE ORIGINAL AND ONLY GENUINE.

CAUTION.—Vice-Chancellor Sir W. P. Wood stated that Dr. J Collis Browne was undoubtedly the inventor of Chlorodyne; that the story of the defendant, Freemen, being the inventor was deliberately untrue, which he regretted had been sworn to. Eminent hospital physicians of London stated that Dr. J. Collis Browne was the discoverer of Chlorodyne; that they prescribe it largely, and mean no other than Dr. Browne's.—See Times, July 12th 1864.

The Public, therefore, are cautioned against using any other than

Dr. J. Collis Browne's Chlorodyne.

REMEDIAL USES AND ACTION.

This invaluable remedy produces quiet, refreshing sleep, relieves pain, calms the system, restores the deranged functions, and stimulates healthy action of the secretions of the body, without creating any of those unpleasant results attending the use of opium. Old and young may take it at all hours and times when requisite. Thousands of persons testify to its marvellous good effects and wonderful cures, while medical men extol its virtues most extensively.

CHLORODYNE is admitted by the profession to be the most wonderful and valuable remedy ever discovered.

CHLORODYNE is the best remedy known for coughs, consumption, bronchitis, asthma.

CHLORODYNE effectually checks and arrests those too often fatal diseases—Diphtheria, Fever, Croup, Ague.

CHLORODYNE acts like a charm in Diarrhœa, and is the only specific in Cholera and Dysentery.

CHLORODYNE effectually cuts short all attacks of Epilepsy, Hysteria, Palpitation and Spasms.

CHLORODYNE is the only palliative in Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Cancer, Toothache, Meningitis, &c.

From Symes & Co., Pharmaceutical Chemists, Medical Hall, Simla, Jan. 5th 1880. To J. T. Davenport, Esq., 33, Great Russell Street, Bloomsbury, London "Dear Sir, we embrace this opportunity of congratulating you upon the widespread reputation this justly-esteemed medicine, DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE, has earned for itself, not only in Hindostan, but all over the East. As a remedy of general utility, we much question whether a better is imported into the country, and we shall be glad to hear of its finding a place in every Anglo-Indian home. The other brands, we are happy to say, are now relegated to the native bazaars, and, judging from their sale, we fancy their sojourn there will be evanescent. We could multiply instances ad infinitum of the extraordinary efficacy of DR. COLLIS BROWNE'S CHLORODYNE in Diarrhœa and Dysentery, Spasms, Cramps, Neuralgia, the Vomiting of Pregnancy, and as a general sedative, that have occurred under our personal observation during many years. In Cholera to Diarrhœa, and even in the more terrible forms of Cholera itself, we have witnessed its surprisingly controlling power. We have never used any other form of this medicine than Collis Browne's, from a firm conviction that it is decidedly the best, and also from a sense of duty we owe to the profession and the public, as we are of opinion that the substitution of any other than Collis Browne's is a "deliberate breach of faith on the part of the chemist to prescriber and patient alike." We are, sir, faithfully yours, Symes & Co., Members of the Pharm. Society of Great Britain. His Excellency the Viceroy's Chemists."

Extract from the General Board of Health, London, as to its efficacy in Cholera—"So strongly are we convinced of the immense value of this remedy that we cannot too forcibly urge the necessity of adopting it in all cases."

CAUTION—None genuine without the words 'Dr J Collis Browne' on the Government Stamp. Overwhelming medical testimony accompanies each bottle.
